

Philadelphia's 2nd Anal Health Symposium

MAKING YOUR BOTTOM A TOP HEALTH PRIORITY

Presented by Drexel University College of Medicine
Hahnemann University Hospital
Division of Colorectal Surgery

Event Chair: Juan Lucas Poggio, MD, FACS

Anal cancer is a growing concern for people living with HIV. Join us for our second symposium discussing the best practices around addressing our anal health, the screening and treatment of anal dysplasia, and anal cancer for men and women living with HIV.

Friday, April 19, 2019

8:30 am - 1:00 pm

Drexel University College of Medicine
(Center City Campus)
New College Building
Geary Auditorium A and B
245 N. 15th Street
Philadelphia PA, 19102

Keynote Speaker

Michael M Gaisa, PhD, MD
Mount Sinai Hospital

TOPICS INCLUDE

- DESTIGMATIZING ANAL HEALTH AT THE DOCTOR'S OFFICE
- THE LATEST RESEARCH ON SCREENING AND TREATMENT GUIDELINES AND RECOMMENDATIONS
- SEXUAL HEALTH AND PLEASURE
- HIV/STI PREVENTION
- HARM REDUCTION EFFORTS
- MICROBICIDES, DOUCHES, FAST-DISSOLVING INSERTS

REGISTER ONLINE AT
AHS2019.EVENTBRITE.COM
OR SEE REVERSE FOR FORM AND CONTACT INFO

Drexel Medicine's Partnership
Comprehensive Care Practice

Speakers

- Juan Lucas Poggio, MD, FACS
Event Chair
Drexel University
Division of Colorectal Surgery
- José A. Bauermeister, Ph.D, MPH
Penn Nursing
- Terri Clark, MPH
Action Wellness
- Karam Mounzer, MD
Jonathan Lax Treatment, FIGHT
- Sara K. Schultz, MD, FACP
Drexel University College of Medicine
- Javier Dominguez
- Jeffery Haskins
Project TEACH, FIGHT

This is a free event
Breakfast and lunch will be served
Seats are limited

This program is eligible for the following CEUs:

- CHES
- Nursing
- LSW